Tube Supply Announces Acquisition of the Assets of Kreher Steel, Kreher Wire and Special Metals, Expanding Its Capabilities and Footprint Across North America

Houston, Texas — March 2, 2026 — Triple-S Tube Supply LP dba as Tube Supply, a global steel distributor, today announced the acquisition of Kreher Steel Company LLC, Kreher Wire Processing Inc, Special Metals Inc and Special Metals Canada a provider of steel, wire and processing capabilities with locations across the United States and Canada. This strategic acquisition strengthens Tube Supply's position in the market and expands its ability to deliver a broader range of steel products to customers throughout North America.

With more than 40 years of industry expertise, Kreher and Special Metals have built a strong reputation for quality, reliability, and service. The integration of these assets into the Tube Supply business will accelerate growth, product offerings, and enhance the value-added solutions available to customers worldwide.

“Our continued commitment to the steel industry brings real enthusiasm for what we will be offering to our current and future customer base.”

— Paul Sorensen, Partner & Co-Founder of Tube Supply

“The diversification and value added through this asset acquisition will position Tube Supply as a stronger partner for our customers. Our strong financial position ensures our ability to be a reliable supplier supporting manufacturers and service companies worldwide.”

— Alvaro Dominguez, President of Tube Supply

“I am excited for the future of Kreher Steel and Special Metals as we join the Tube Supply team. We remain dedicated to serving our customers, and combining our businesses with Tube Supply will allow us to build on our decades of experience and continue to grow”

— Scott Stephens, Vice-President of New Kreher Steel & Wire

Under the terms purchase, structured as an asset acquisition:

- Kreher Steel Company & Kreher Wire Processing Inc will operate as divisions of Tube Supply, maintaining their legacy while benefiting from expanded resources.
- Special Metals Inc. and Special Metals Canada will be fully integrated into the Tube Supply organization, aligning processes, teams, and product offerings under one unified operational structure.

Customers of both companies can expect uninterrupted service, improved access to inventory, and enhanced supply chain solutions as integration of the assets moves forward.

This latest acquisition underscores Tube Supply's ongoing commitment to service, portfolio expansion, and long-term growth, further positioning the company for continued success in the years ahead.
